Our new & improved Website

BELL
& BAIN
LIMITED

Printing in Glasgow since 1831

Now the oldest independent large format printers in the UK

We are pleased to announce we have been working hard over the last couple of months in order to launch a new and improved company website!

On the website we are proud to share information on our history dating back to our founding owners James Bell & Andrew Bain who started the company all those years ago in 1831 - yes we are nearly 200 years old!

You will also find details of our plant list consisting of all machinery within the factory and an insight into the services of what we can offer you our customers.

There is also the "meet the team" section where you will be able to put a face to the name of someone who have dealt with over the years but possibly never met.

When creating the website our "young team members" were wanting to share with you some fun information about themselves but we decided to keep the traditional values of the company through the website and kept this strictly professional. However, the employee section within this newsletter will over the coming months focus on the team who appear on the website and we will share with you some more personal and fun facts about each and every one of them!

PS - the usual creator of this newsletter is on holiday at the moment so this one is a little shall we say shorter and sweeter than usual as I was left alone to do this!

EMPLOYEE FOCUS

Name: Sharon Noble

Position: Customer Service Advisor

Years of Service: 18 Years

Describe your role: From receiving a PO, I will look after my customers jobs while their books are in production and ensure bookings and deliveries are made. There is a lot of admin required on a daily basis with the larger accounts and this keeps me very busy throughout the week.

Fun fact about yourself: I came to work in the bindery to help with the rush in the run up to Christmas, and still here 18 years later!

What I've learned about myself during the pandemic: I actually enjoyed the confinement and learned how to cook - although I still can't bake for love nor money!

What do you enjoy the most about your position?: I am very passionate about my job and knowing customers are delighted with their end product is job satisfaction for me. I have worked with many of my customers for years and love the rapport I have with them. I also have a great bunch of colleagues and look upon some as my "work weans".

What do you hope 2022 will bring you? At the latter end of 2022 I'm going to be a granny again, this time to a wee girl so I'll probably be skint in 2023 buying lots of pink frilly dresses!
